KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Calgary slipped to 3.8 months of supply — still balanced, but loosening. Inventory fell to 6,196 active listings and sales fell faster, to 1,620 in the last 30 days.
- Detached did all the softening this week. Sales dropped from 913 to 854 and supply moved 3.0 → 3.2 months. Semi-detached is now the tightest type in the city at 3.1 months.
- Condos remain the only buyer's market at 6.0 months. Apartments are 30% of everything listed but only 19% of what sold.
- The $400K–$600K band still carries the market: 473 of 1,620 city-wide sales — 29% — came from that window across all four property types.
- Luxury condos are frozen while luxury houses keep moving: 23 active condos over $1.5M produced zero sales, while detached $1M–$1.5M sold 110 units at 2.8 months of supply.

What Is Your Calgary Home Worth Today?

City-wide averages don't price an individual house. Your community, your price range and your property type all move at different speeds — as this report shows. I'll give you a free, no-obligation home evaluation based on what is actually selling around you right now.
