KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Calgary holds at 3.7 months of supply — squarely balanced. Inventory rose to 6,281 active listings while 1,699 homes sold over the last 30 days.
- Detached and semi-detached are the tightest markets at 3.0 months. Both cleared 33% of standing inventory in 30 days and sit on the edge of seller's territory.
- Condos crossed into 6.0 months of supply — the only buyer's market in the city. Apartments are 30% of everything listed but just 19% of what sold.
- The $400K–$600K band carries the market: 499 of 1,699 city-wide sales — 29% — came from that price window across all four property types.
- Luxury condos are stalled while luxury houses keep moving: 22 active condos over $1.5M produced zero sales in 30 days, while detached homes from $1M–$1.5M sold 111 units at 2.8 months of supply.

What Is Your Calgary Home Worth Today?

City-wide averages don't price an individual house. Your community, your price range and your property type each move at their own speed — and as this report shows, that spread is wide right now. I'll prepare a free, no-obligation home evaluation based on what is actually selling around you.
