KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Semi-detached remains the tightest segment, holding at 3.1 months of supply with its $400K–$500K band leading the entire city at 47% sold — the fastest-moving price tier of any property type.
- Condos stay the city's only buyer's market at 5.1 months, ticking slightly softer from 5.0 last week, though the $200K–$300K tier still moved 161 units at 23% sold — by far the largest volume of any condo price band.
- City-wide activity cooled a touch this week: active listings held flat at 6,037 while sales dipped 22 to 1,673, nudging total months of supply nowhere — steady at 3.6.
- Sales velocity keeps cooling year over year: August averaged 54 sales per day, down from 64 in August 2025 and 70 in August 2024 — a 23% decline over two years, with total August sales falling to 1,660 from 2,183 two years ago.
- Luxury condos stayed frozen for a second straight week — 22 active listings over $1.5M, zero sales — while $600K–$700K townhouses kept moving briskly at 38% sold.
